

Unique. Innovative. Fun. Modern

Big Drop Technologies is perhaps the only one year old you'd ever want in your business. Beginning each project with understanding the client's business, Big Drop Technologies promises to offer the best solution and technology to their client's software or marketing problems.

Big Drop Technologies builds software that achieves business success and has transformational effects on organisations and their people.

With years of experience behind their belt, the Big Drop Technologies team is capable of thinking out of the box and know when to use the latest tech tools and when to stick to the conventional stuff.

Ideas. They strike at any moment and come in various forms. However, implementation is usually the tough part. From whiteboard to app store, Big Drop Technologies aims to build your moonshot. With more than 30 successfully completed software projects over a period of 6 months, Big Drop Technologies has developed solutions for multiple industries - education, finance, networking, e-commerce, health, travel, furniture, design, and more.

Big Drop Technologies commit to a multi language and multi disciplinary development approach which ensures that the right language is proposed for your build with experts who can get it done right.

The Big Drop Technologies journey

Always having had a passion for computers, co-founder and CEO of Big Drop Technologies, Naved Khan had perfected his knowledge around CMS based websites - Wordpress, Drupal, etc by the time he was 15. After his first job at Sambhaavnaa, followed by remotely volunteering for Telegram Messenger LLC, Khan freelanced in the same domain for 2 years. Starting with Python, Naved has today mastered nearly every common web technology.

Khan had developed an online portal called "Big Drop" to manage his freelance clients - and their billing / invoicing. As clients got familiar with the Big Drop name, he decided to drop out of college and pursue his passion full time. In September 2016, Big Drop Technologies was officially registered.

Having dealt with over 20 unique and satisfied clients in the short period of 5 months, Khan looked to expand further and took upon an offer to collaborate with a larger company in the same domain.

On March 2017, Big Drop Technologies became a subsidiary of App Works Technologies.
